Description of the Teams Line Up for Action By GEORGE B. MORRIS. Laurel, Md., Oct. 6.—It was a typical Indian Summer day at Laurel Park, and as a result the largest gathering of the meeting was present. Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, who was a crowd within himself, of course, had a hard time working his way through an aisle of folks and past barriers of outstretched hands to the train. The Carrol Institute football eleven which has been recently organized, will be given its first work-out today when they meet Coach Bill McCaffery's Eastern High School eleven, at the Rosedale Playgrounds.

FOUR LOCAL TEAMS WILL BATTLE TODAY

Georgetown Plays Navy-C. U. Meets Richmond-State Opposes Dickinson and G. W. U., St. Johns.

The local South Atlantic representative football elevens will get their first chance at the real game today, when four of the five local colleges take to the field for their opening classes. Although there are four games booked, only one of the quartette will have any bearing on the championship of this division, this being the Georgetown-Navy battle scheduled in nnapolis.

While this game is rated as the only one of importance the other games will be more than interesting, as the local col-lege elevens are booked to meet com-paratively strong teams and ones which beyond doubt will prove worthy oppenents. Catholic University, opposed by the Richmond College eleven, from the Virginia town, will be the only local attraction, the other contests being held on foreign fields.

Coach Sullivan and his Hatchetites, who are to blast open football for the first time since 1907, will be the morning attraction in Annapolis, having the St. St. John's College team as their rivals. Sullivan has gathered together an able bunch of gridironers, and the outcome of this battle will be watched with interest The Maryland State and Agriculture College under the leadership of "Curley" Byrd will also start its season's schedule facing the Dickinson College team on the College Park field. The fact that the State team has scrimmaged with the Georgetown eleven this week has added much confidence to the College Park boys, but it is thought from Dickinson's per-formance against Navy last Saturday that it will take more than confidence to land the verdict for the Marylanders. Any team that can hold the Navy eleven to a draw is worthy of mention, and as this was the record turned in by the lit-tle team from Carlisle, Pa., the work of the State team is already cut out.

game of the season is scheduled to be played against Uncle Sam's Midshipmen. Georgetown has a green line, one which little is known as to the driving powers, while the navy team could not have performed according to expectations Saturday against Dickinson or else the same line-up would start the game, with-out the large number of changes which have been made in the past few days GEORGETOWN. While the Georgetown and George Washington elevens are fighting in Annapolis and the Maryland State College will be entertaining the Dickinson eleven at College Park, the remaining members of Washington's football following will have a game to witness, the Catholic Uni-versity and Richmond College teams affording this opportunity. Fred Nellson's charges have not given much opportunity for the dopesters this season, though much is expected from the Brooklanders because of the number of veterans on hand for the team.

The probable line-up for the locals is as follows: Left end, Ohern; left tackle, McKinney; left guard, Green; center, Murphy (captain); right guard, O'Brien; right tackle, Neville; right end, Manning or Rummey; quarter back Shortley; left or Rummey; quarter back, Shortley; left half back, Rogers or Williams; right half back, Munhall; full back, J. Owing to the arrangement by the management at College Park that no admis-sion will be charged for the game today and with Dickinson as the attraction, the Marylanders will draw more than their share of the football following here. The game will start at 3 o'clock. The line-
